FRENCH TROOPS OCCUPY BORDER SUBWAY FORTS

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 11.—
Pacts, treaties and "understandings" past, present and proposed, are impossible to keep track of. There is real work for the League of Nations if it would confine itself to card indexing the "scraps of paper" that rustle through the darkening air over Europe.

As an open laundry for the public washing of dirty international linen, the League has not been an unqualified help.

Meanwhile, there is Germany back in the Rhineland with her armed men, in defiance of Versailles and Locarno. Yet no more "isolation" of those treaties than are the other signatories who beg the question of the sanctions provided for just such an eventuality.

The hinge of the situation is England, who shows no inclination to pull chestnuts out of the fire for anyone. Since Mussolini called the sanctions bluff about Ethiopia it is possible the British have decided to mind their own business and practice the reverse of what they so fondly preach when they clamor for the United States to dive into the European whirlpool.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle high school basketeers are deserving of the plaudits of the school and city today. The feat by which this floor aggregation came from behind in Section III a few weeks ago to carry on to the championship of Class A, W. P. I. A. L., is one that hasn't been heard of around here for many long years. This year's team at New Castle high deserves the ranking of "The Wonder Team." Congratulations for the boys and coach are more than deserved.

PA News is informed that wild geese have been flying north during the past few days. Yes, spring is on the way!

STRASBOURG, Alsace, France, March 11.—What France believes to be her invincible border fortifications were fully manned today for the first time—and "for good."

The last contingent moved in today, bringing the total number of men involved in the operation to from 40,000 to 60,000—yet the "big parade" was accomplished in the greatest order and secrecy.

Including a secondary line of defense, France now has an estimated 150,000 men on her eastern walls.

Although parts of the famous Maginot line had been partially occupied previously, never before had the whole sector been taken over.

Almost Completed

If only Germany had delayed re-militarization of the Rhineland for two or three months more, every detail in the world's greatest military defense—France's modern "great wall of China"—would have been finished and the many storied Subterranean fortresses ready for occupancy.

Cancel Sanctions Italy To Demand

Economic Measures Against Germany Or Removal Of Sanctions Is Stand

LEAGUE WILL HEAR ITALY'S ATTITUDE

By LINDESEY PARROTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Mar. 11.—Unless economic measures are taken against Germany as a result of Hitler's invasion of the Rhineland, sanctions against Italy must be cancelled.

This viewpoint will be presented to the Locarno treaty signatories and the council of the League of Nations Saturday in London by Premier Mussolini's spokesman, it was learned today.

At the same time Italy is likely to insist that sanctions must be removed before any concrete peace terms are offered to Abyssinia.

Whether Dino Grandi, ambassador to London, or Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Mussolini's usual league representative, will be the Italian delegate in London is so far unknown.

The delegate, in any case, will point out the "injustice and absurdity" of a policy which might permit Germany to escape the sanctions that were applied against Italy.

On this argument Italy will base her attack on the league's sanctions policy in general.

SHARON, Pa., March 11.—Work was to start today on repairing Sharon high school's $250,000 stadium which was reported near danger of collapsing as the frozen ground began to thaw. The entire superstructure was threatened after two concrete piers sank several inches, causing girders to snap.

Constructed as a work relief project, the stadium rests atop an abandoned coal mine.

Dr. John F. Condon Departs From Panama

(International News Service)
CHRISTOBAL, Panama Canal Zone, Mar. 11.—Dr. John F. ("Jafie") Condon, payoff man in the Lindbergh ransom extortion and central figure in the reopened investigation of the Lindbergh crime, was on the high seas again today—apparently headed for New York.

"Jafie" and his daughter Mrs. Myra Hacker, took passage on the liner Santa Inez in a surprise move last night. The vessel is bound for New York.

Condon's departure coincided with the arrival of Andrew K. Dutch, investigator for New Jersey's Governor Hoffman, racing Dr. John F. ("Jafie") Condon to New York, it was reported today.

After Condon's surprise departure from here last night on the S. S. Santa Inez, it was learned Dutch, who had arrived here only yesterday took the liner Georgic back to New York last night.

McFate Named To Lead 'Y' Drive

Attorney To Be Chairman Of Annual Campaign For Members

MARCH 31-APRIL 3 DATES ANNOUNCED

Attorney Joseph R. McFate was chosen yesterday afternoon to be the general chairman for the 1936 membership campaign of the New Castle Young Men's Christian Association.

Known throughout the city, McFate, one of the youngest lawyers here, will head an organization which will seek to solicit the "Y's" annual member support in three days' time.

Opening the night of March 31, the campaign will close the night of April 3. Report dinners will be held on the evenings of April 2 and 3.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans announced today that preparations for the canvass have been under way for weeks. Cards have been prepared and now the organization set-up is being mapped.

The two chief lieutenants to Mr. McFate will be Fred C. Wolford and Chris A. Clark, the division heads. They will announce their division organizations within a few days.

Dinners, as always, take place in the second floor banquet hall of the association.

Boys of the "Y" will play an important part as in past campaigns, General Secretary Meermans said.

Democrats Lose In Rhode Island

Suffer Heavy Losses In Every District In Tuesday Election

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Mar. 11.—Complete returns from the state constitutional referendum, backed by the Democrats, today showed a Republican victory by more than 11,000 votes.

The total popular vote on the constitutional convention plan was: against, 98,383; for, 27,007.

Suffering tremendous losses in every district, the Democrats lost their battle to obtain a constitutional convention with a view to increasing the representation of cities in the legislature.

They succeeded in carrying only three cities and two towns, all by narrow margins, while the Republicans swept 30 towns and four cities.

Providence, Pawtucket and Central Falls were the three cities which stayed in the Democratic ranks, but with vastly sapped strength.

The traditionally Democratic stronghold city of Woonsocket went over to the Republicans, along with Warwick, Cranston and Newport.

On this argument Italy will base her attack on the league's sanctions policy in general.

DEATH RECORD

Joseph Felice, 221 East Clayton street, reported to police at 2:35 a. m. today he attempted to steer his auto from car tracks in Long avenue, lost control and the car plunged against and broke a fire hydrant at Long avenue and Mora-via street. ### King Edward Is Thinking About Getting Married

Message To Parliament Indicating Possibility Of Royal Marriage

NO INFORMATION GIVEN, HOWEVER

King's Message Shows Idea Of Marriage Has Not Been Abandoned

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Mar. 11.—Edward VIII, England's first bachelor king since 1760, is thinking about getting married, he indicated in a message to parliament today.

The king, who was probably the world's best known and "most eligible" bachelor during his popular life as the Prince of Wales, submitted a message to the House of Commons asking that "the contingency of his marriage" be taken into account in the drawing up of a new civil list.

The House immediately wondered whether the king had a possible queen in mind in submitting the message, but information on this point was not immediately forthcoming. William Thorne, a Laborite, approached the problem by asking:

Silence Greets Query

"Does his majesty give any guarantee he is going to get married? There was no reply.

King Edward's message plainly indicated he has not abandoned the idea of marrying. George III, England's last bachelor king, was married within a year after taking the throne.

The message declared that in view of the death of King George it was

Literary Contest Plans Completed

County Schools Will Compete In Annual Event At Slippery Rock, March 28

ARRANGEMENTS IN HANDS OF SCHOOL

Announcement was made today by County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, that final arrangements for the annual contest of the Davis resolution, proposing a sweeping state inquiry into charges that WPA state administrations are being used for "political purposes."

Voicing confidence in the national administration of WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Lewis declared critics of various state administrations should be given a chance to prove their charges and accused administrators an opportunity to be heard in their own defense.

He condemned any effort to "hush up" such charges.

Five WPA state administrations have been under fire recently. In West Virginia, young Senator Holt, Democrat, charged WPA officials with maintaining a huge political organization while denying relief to needy persons. In Maryland, a legislative committee charged WPA waste and extravagance. In Michigan, Pennsylvania and Illinois, charges were made that relief workers were subjected to demands for political contributions from their meager salaries.

A resolution, calling for a senate inquiry was introduced by Senator Davis (D) of Pennsylvania. He was aroused by charges that relief workers in his state were being forced to contribute to the Democratic machine in the Keystone State.

This is the first time that the contest has been held outside the confines of the county, but because of the fact that Slippery Rock is only a short distance away, the contestants from the different schools are not expected to be inconvenienced.

The winners will compete with students from New Castle and Ellwood City for the right to represent the district in the elimination contests which will take place later in the spring in the state eliminations.

Margiotti's Suit Costs Jefferson Co. $2,650.81

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Mar. 11.—Jefferson county taxpayers today had a bill for $2,650.81 from Washington county for their share of the costs of trying the criminal libel suit brought by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti against the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Inquirer, which was victorious, was assessed $1,211.96 as a share under the terms laid down by the state supreme court when it granted the newspaper's plea for a change of venue.

Included in the bill as made public by Clerk of Courts David L. Holt were the costs of drugs, a radio, the ater tickets and a sightseeing trip for the jurors.

The itemized account, as announced by Holt, showed District Attorney James C. Bancroft approved a bill of $563.52 for fees and mileage for the jurors, $866.05 for room and meals at a hotel; $1.10 for magazines, $10 for rental of a radio, $11.25 for drugs and $7.94 for motion picture theater tickets.

DR. FRANK DENIES REPORT

Censure Of Roosevelt Administration Arouses Ire of La Follettes

DENY LA FOLLETTE
TO HEAD UNIVERSITY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO Mar. 11.—Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, reached by long distance telephone early today, made the following comment on reports he would either resign or be dismissed as president of the university by June.

"No one has asked me for my resignation. I have no intentions of leaving. Reports that Mr. Wilkie (Harold M. Wilke, president of the board of regents) told me that I should resign are false. No such thing has happened."

Madison, Wis., Mar. 11.—A report that Gov. Philip LaFollette would succeed Dr. Frank as president of the university was denied at the executive office.

It was reported the board of regents tell Dr. Frank was at fault for not taking a firmer stand in the recent athletic controversy; that his recent political utterances in which he has censured the Roosevelt administration has aroused the animosity of the LaFollettes; that he has become too much of a national figure; and that he is too frequently absent from his office.

SEEKS TO BRING FRANCE-GERMANY INTO AGREEMENT

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

Paris, Mar. 11.—Germany must withdraw her troops from the Rhine zone—or Britain must agree to sign an outright Franco-British military alliance, before France will negotiate a non-aggression pact with the Reich.

This will be France's ultimatum to Britain at the League of Nations council meeting in London Saturday, according to informants close to the French foreign office.

Frances' Position

Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin, according to these sources, will say to the British government, in essence,

"Germany has moved into the Rhineland in violation of two solemn treaties. Soon she will construct fortifications there and will have a formidable army within the borders of France."

"We cannot agree to this under present conditions, and will refuse to negotiate with Germany until the troops withdraw."

"However, if Britain will not ask Germany to recall her troops and will not co-operate in coercive action against her, France will agree to negotiate a new set of agreements with the Reich, and even allow German troops to remain in the remilitarized zone, provided England signs a conclusive and binding military alliance with France."

Germany's Stand

Berlin, Mar. 11.—Germany will refuse an invitation to attend the League of Nations council meeting in London Saturday unless two important conditions are fulfilled, International News Service was informed today.

These conditions are:

1. That Germany participate in the deliberations as an equal and not "a culprit before the bar".

2. That it be frankly assumed by all that France's demand for German evacuation of the Rhineland "is useless and a waste of time unless a mutual demilitarized zone is established."

The mutual demilitarized zone was proposed by Chancellor Hitler Saturday in his momentous Reichstag address announcing reoccupation of the Rhineland. Hitler said Germany would allow creation of such a zone if it went just as far into French and Belgian territory as into the Reich's.

Decision on whether to accept the League invitation rested with Chancellor Hitler, and with him alone, as did the decision on who would be represented at the London talks.

Britain Seeks Compromise

London, Mar. 11.—Momentarily straddling the Rhineland issue in a struggle to insure the peace of Europe, the British government plumped today into a discussion of possible compromises to appease both Germany and France.

The cabinet met for an hour and 10 minutes under Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin at his official residence, No. 10 Downing street, going over the grave problem as thoroughly as possible before the arrival of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden from Paris this evening.

The cabinet discussed the situation, it was learned, touched upon the possibility of creating a Rhineland "sub-demilitarized zone", under which German troops would be withdrawn to points considerably distant from the French frontiers, which they are now facing, and yet still within the Rhineland area, which was then demilitarized by the Versailles and Locarno treaties.

Such a compromise would aim at satisfying the French demand for security and yet would at the same time be consistent with German prestige.

The cabinet sought a compromise to satisfy the two nations pending a full consideration of the crisis by the League and to suppress French demands for immediate action against the Reich.

Belgium Menaced

Brussels, Mar. 11.—"Considering Belgium's frontiers, we are more menaced than France by Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland," Premier Paul Van Zeeland told a packed Belgian chamber of deputies today.

"The Germans cannot invoke any Soviet pact as an excuse against Belgium," he shouted.

Stressing Franco-Belgian solidarity, and expressing hopes the League would maintain a common front, Van Zeeland said this was necessary "to make Germany understand and respect international law as a basis of relations between peoples."

"Dispositions already taken are sufficient for the moment. These dispositions consist of what is known as putting all active frontier troops on alarm footing."

"Should events show the necessity of reinforcing the actual dispositions, it would not be necessary to have recourse to mobilization. It would suffice to call up frontier reserves for a training period, which would be done in a few hours."

connected with them by underground passages have not been completed. The soldiers, therefore, have to stay continuously inside the fortifications, which almost constitute a "subway" system" from the Swiss border all the way to Belgium.

Never before in history, perhaps, have such extensive troop movements been carried out without disturbing the routine life of the cities and villages in the occupied area.

Small scale maneuvers had been going on for a year or more, getting the men in readiness for the "move in" at moment's notice.

Routes for the movement were chosen so far as possible, away from populated areas. Residents of Strasbourg, for example, have not seen a single regiment march through.

On Alarm Footing

Paris, Mar. 11.—All active French frontier troops are on "alarm footing," the war office asserted in an official communiqué today which definitely denied reports mobilization plans were under way.

The communiqué estimated 90,000 German troops had been rushed into the Rhineland since Saturday, but stated French dispositions already taken were sufficient for the emergency created by Germany's act.

Pearson, program chairman, announced the program, as outlined in Tuesday's News, for the meeting next week at which several interesting speakers will be heard. At Mrs. Pearson's suggestion, the board voted to send a letter to Mayor Charles McGrath, asking for adequate police protection for the public parks in the city.

A nominating committee was elected, consisting of Mrs. S. M. Matheny, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, Mrs. C. A. Ingalls, Mrs. Roy M. Jamison, Mrs. Ralph S. Reed. They will prepare a slate of officers which will be presented at the next board meeting in May and then voted upon at the open meeting in May.

A. U. R. AUXILIARY OFFICERS INSTALLED

Mrs. John F. Walters and Mrs. Emerson McGuire were joint hostesses for the A. U. R. Girls of Central Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening in the home of the former on Maryland avenue.

An interesting missionary program was led by Miss Maude Mitchell, Miss Margaret Lowery who had the topic "Japan" also read an interesting letter from her personal friend, Miss Lena Anderson, who is located in Nigeria, West Africa. Miss Theodore Pollock reviewed the national topic "The Foreigner in America."

Miss Alison Leslie, retiring president, conducted an impressive installation service when she induced the new president, Miss Theodora Pollock and her corps of officers into office for the ensuing year.

The remainder of the evening was spent in an enjoyable perusal of birthday greeting cards which had been sent to Mrs. Anna U. Rudesill, founder of the auxiliary, on her recent birthday. Many happy memories were brought to mind, as the greetings represented members since the A. U. R. Girls was organized a quarter of a century ago.

"Capsule Sisters" revealed their good deeds over the past year and new capsules were drawn to continue the plan.

At a seasonal hour the hostesses served delicious refreshments and the menu was carried out in St. Patrick's suggestion to the most minute detail. A silver tree with spear-shaped candy leaves shaded a mound of Irish potatoes centring the dining table flanked on either side by gold and Erin green tapers and shamrock cutouts were user profusely.

Mrs. Clifford M. Propst and Mrs. Louis G. Rudesill, will entertain the auxiliary in the home of the former 318 North Beaver street, Tuesday evening, April 14th.

NEW TAX PROPOSALS

THE Nation has not yet had sufficient time thoroughly to digest the meaning and the probable results of President Roosevelt's tax proposals, if these are finally enacted into law. The first comments indicate that the recommendations will be strongly opposed by most of the Republicans in the House and Senate and that there is a serious division of opinion among the Democratic leaders.

The proposals, if enacted into law, would tax the undistributed earnings of corporations. The estimates of the amount of revenue which would be raised by the taxation are matters of opinion only. A great many believe, however, that the revenue yield would be disappointing, owing to the fact that so much of the surplus accounted for in corporation reports is a matter of bookkeeping.

Although Democratic leaders like Senator Harrison of Mississippi and of Senator Robinson of Arkansas endorsed the principles of the new proposals, according to newspapers, and many Republican leaders condemned it, the criticism was not all partisan, by any means. For example, Congressman Huddleston of Alabama, Democrat, is quoted as saying:

"I can't see the logic of this proposal. It means undivided profits will be distributed and most of the tax paid by the average individual. If United States Steel had not had a big surplus it would have gone out of existence."

Senator Clark, Democrat, of Missouri said:

"My first reaction is to question the propriety of this. Treasury experts may be able to convince me it is all right. But corporations must be able to maintain substantial reserves, or many will go to the poorhouse during any depression."

Most of the criticism was based on the question of sound business management, which it is claimed would be made difficult by the new tax plan. It was pointed out that corporations in times of prosperity do not distribute their earnings, but save up some of their money for a rainy day. Like individuals following the same practice, they fare better in hard times than those who have squandered all their earnings; so that the new proposed tax might be called another attack on thrift, one more discouragement to the old-fashioned practice of saving money in the belief that it may be necessary for existence in the future.

In summing up this argument, Representative Walcott, Republican, of Michigan is quoted as saying:

"This bill strikes at the foundations of American business. What would have happened to American labor during the depression if corporation surpluses had not been wiped out?

"General Motors had a reserve and used part of it for employment. This nation owes a deep debt of gratitude to the business acumen with which the automobile industry pulled the country out of the depression.

"This surplus belongs to the stockholders. Every concern must build up a reasonable reserve."

In the welter of conflicting opinions one point must not be forgotten. Some weeks ago the President announced that business was to have a "breathing spell." The currently proposed tax plans indicate that the breathing spell is now over.

BLUSTRY MARCH

March, with its strong winds and fickle weathers, might be compared to some very blustering person, who talks loud and acts in a rough and violent way. Yet its constantly ascending sun is a redeeming feature, and this too emphatic creature keeps thawing us out with his sunshiny light, so we half like him after all.

March is an unpopular month in most climates, because of this boisterous character. But let us not be afraid of good strong March winds.

PERILS IN THE GARDEN

We view with our customary spring alarm the first faint rattle of hoe and rake in the tool-shed. We warn our readers to flee at the sight of seed catalogues, bright in hues of spinach green and tomato red. We caution subscribers one and all to abjure Mother Earth in this period of strong temptation, and guarantee that such as do will thank us in July. For the backyard garden is a cruel master, and the amateur gardener is its slave.

This is, of course, the time of year when temptation is the strongest. It is too early for the real work of gardening, but it is early enough to think longingly about it. Last summer is gone and the hours of toil are forgotten, but the memory of fresh peas and beans "out of the garden" lingers on. In this condition the amateur gardener is easy prey to the lures and wiles of gardening. The outdoor spell is on him, and somehow it is soul-satisfying to announce to wife and neighbor the intention to make a garden. And once the step is taken all is lost. The work and pain of gardening may break his spirit and rack his body—the amateur gardener cannot give up.

He will go on the bitter end—and wonder why he did it.

Hitler will no doubt point out that Mussolini got away with it, just as Mussolini pointed to Japan as justification.

Freedom is the inalienable right of every man except the one who prefers doing his way instead of yours.

The wicked have one advantage. Shame doesn't make them hide the evidence when they see the preacher coming.

Discovery that there is a Mrs. Bernard Shaw prompts the inquisitive to inquire how she manages to win a wife's privilege to have the last word.

Happy Harry Hopkins has announced a new drive to force relief workers to go on private employment. What ever became of the first one?

The senate has voted a 420-million rural electrification bill. It is rather typical of the senate that it should vote a half-billion dollar expenditure while gnashing its teeth over the necessity of raising more than a billion, just recently appropriated.

World Question Marks.
Did Hitler Want War?
What Of Stalin, Japan?
How Long A War, With Plane?
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

TODAY ALL the world asks questions. These are some: Did Hitler plan another war when he moved troops and airplanes toward France, or did he expect to win adoring admiration for his "courage" and at the same time avoid war?

Does he who never commanded an army or a regiment believe that he is intuitively a great commander of men, like Cromwell, who never lost a battle, or Admiral Blake, who never went to sea until fifty years old?

Did Hitler believe that his offer of a twenty-five year non-aggression pact would reconcile France to violation of the demilitarized zone along the Rhine?

IF HE did, he seems to have been mistaken. The French reply to his offer by moving troops and airplanes eastward to meet Hitler coming west.

The two armies are within shooting distance of each other. French military action is so prompt and menacing that it worries England.

She would rather have six months of talk to ten minutes of war.

COULD England stay out of this war? Probably not, although she might wish it.

Business is getting better, and samples of young British manhood in English universities have announced that they will not fight again for king and country, although they probably would fight in preference to the alternative, which might be a firing squad.

RUSSIAN newspapers that call Hitler's move "unparalleled insolence" do not speak without Stalin's approval.

TIME

Looking forward Time appears To the eager youthful eye Just a dull parade of years Oh, so slowly passing by!

Somewhere, somewhere far away Faintly sounds a trumpet note Heraldng the golden day Like a circus master-float.

In the distance echoing cheers Hint of splendor drawing on, Then it suddenly appears And as suddenly is gone.

Dull and drab the days between Marching only to the drum. Youth who waits the gayer scene Wonders will it never come.

Looking backwards with a sigh When Time's pageantry has passed, Age, remembering joys gone by, Wonders why they moved so fast. (Copyright, 1936, Edgar A. Guest)

A Los Angeles judge could hardly believe it, but a prisoner finally convinced him that his name was Safety First. He was charged with violating a traffic regulation. Which leads us to spring that old saw, "What's in a name?"

It is charged with extravagance and when it doesn't spend money it is censured for "hoarding."

Some girls can read a boy like a book, that is, if he happens to be the right type.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, is a woman's method of concealing it.

It is said that down at Miami folks who don't bathe, gamble and chew tobacco, amuse themselves by counting the names of northern officials on the hotel registers. Nearly all the Pennsylvania State heroes are down at Miami, but the Harrisburg reports don't tell whether or not their wives are along.

The first official mother-in-law was observed recently in Texas. It is said that it was promoted by a Texas columnist, who made his wife's mother angry by referring to her as "the standing army." The mother-in-law joke has been wearing whiskers for years, but we presume it will renew its youth every time a couple are married. But laying jokes aside, or wherever a joke is laid, we have known some really good mothers-in-law, so if you happen to be in that class, cheer up.

The double card (for social purposes) should read: "Judge and Mrs. John Edward Smith."

The judge and his wife should leave a double card when calling on the bereaved.

If not seeing any member of the bereaved family, they should leave their card with a servant at the door. "With sympathy" or "so sorry to hear of your loss" should be written on it.

The double card is used also when sending joint gifts and funeral flowers and sometimes when paying for personal visits.

Excellent Program At Mahoning Grange

Regular Business Transacted And Humorous Program Given Tuesday Evening

Mahoning Valley grange held the regular meeting Tuesday evening, in the grange hall with Master R. W. Allison presiding.

During the transaction of routine business, a membership committee was appointed which consists of Mrs. A. Montgomery, Mrs. E. M. Byler and Miss Elma Robinson.

Lecturer Miss Muriel Simon supervised the evening's program which was highly interesting and entertaining. A song entitled, "Smile, Smile, Smile" was sung by the grange and following, Frank Kelso gave a humorous poem, "A Heap of Livin'". Reports and discussions of the Industrial show recently held in the Cathedral were heard and a report of the last Pomona meeting was given by Master Allison.

A spelling stunt caused no end of fun, as the young people participating chose captains and sides and it was a long tussle to see which could outdo the other.

Last, but by no means least, was a hilarious skit entitled "Mrs. Baker's Smallpox". As that Mrs. Baker had, but a small "box" erroneously reported at her house, the audience was kept in an uproar with the play on words. The cast included: Mrs. Coon—Mrs. R. D. Walters; Mrs. Nutt—Jennie Whiting; Miss Miles—Wilda Simon; Mrs. Dodger—Vera Cox; Mrs. Baker—Mrs. M. M. Simon. Song, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" was sung in concluding the program.

On March 24, the date of the next regular meeting, Mahoning Valley grange will enjoy the annual oyster supper at which the men of the organization will entertain the women and families.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Fish's Views Are Confusing

Is Considered Ultra-Conservative Because Of Bitterness Toward Reds

RADICAL VIEWS BEFORE NEW DEAL

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Because he is so vehement an anti-red alarmist Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, has the reputation of being an ultra-conservative.

But he believes he is a liberal.

And, decidedly against the consensus of opinion among his congressional associates, I agree with him.

For example, it seems to me that he demonstrated an extraordinary degree of open-mindedness, considering how anti-radical he is, when he recently expressed approval of the Columbia Broadcasting System's policy in granting free time to Secretary Earl Browder of the American Communist party.

As an outstanding "anti" to everything communistic, the New Yorker was chosen to answer Browder, which he did. He disputed Browder's assertions in every particular, but voiced his satisfaction that a chance had been afforded to the red spokesman to address the country. It proved, he said, that free speech exists in the United States.

THE RIGHT TO SAY

This is not the attitude of a reactionary.

It is an intelligent attitude, too; Fish could not have made so effective an anti-communistic radio talk if he had not been preceded by Browder—to be replied to, and demolished.

(As Voltaire remarked, "I dissent from every word you say, but I'll fight to the death in defense of your right to say it.")

WHY AN ISLAND?

A few years ago Congressman Fish was quoted in favor of marooning Communists on an island.

Insular isolation for folk one doesn't like is not a new idea, but there was something especially specific and intriguing in this particular hint and I interviewed the New Yorker on the subject.

"Why," I inquired, "an island?"

"I hold," said the congressman, "no especial brief for an island, further than that it is convenient."

"From a restricted area on the mainland there would be continual escapes. A destroyer, constantly cruising 'round and 'round an island, would make escapes impossible."

"But why not kill 'em?" I queried.

INHUMAN TO KILL

The congressman looked shocked. "In the first place," he explained, "I don't want to martyrize them."

"Aside from that, it would be inhuman."

"Communism is a contagious disease—like smallpox."

"A smallpox patient must be quarantined. But kill him? Horrible!"

LAUGH IT OFF?

Suppose, however, that the Communist patients, marooned on their island, should fail to quarreling among themselves?

"In that event," said Congressman Fish, "I believe that civilization would have its best laugh in generations."

Thus Congressman Fish wants to reason and laugh communists out of business—not to try to squelch it by violence.

A PARADOXICAL PERSON

The congressman was a pioneer in the campaign for old age pensions.

A so-called conservative, he fought for many New Deal plans before the New Deal evolved them.

But he has that anti-red complex.

The radicals do not realize that he is at least a liberal; the conservatives do not realize that he is not much of a conservative.

Correct this sentence: "I would feel silly," said the ambulance driver, "if I sounded my siren unnecessarily."

THE RIGHT TO SAY

This is not the attitude of a reactionary.

It is an intelligent attitude, too; Fish could not have made so effective an anti-communistic radio talk

Lions Over Nation Learn Of Wagner's Post Office Stand

The self-supporting news stand enterprise which young Victor Wagner conducts in the lobby of the Federal building here is being read about by members of Lion's clubs throughout the country.

In the March issue of The Lion, organ of Lions International, the noteworthy accomplishment of the New Castle Lions club is reviewed. The Lions here put Wagner in business.

Wagner, blind, goes about the city with the aid of a "seeing eye" dog, "Vonnie."

Colds should be checked before they become deep-seated. Colds that hang on—stubborn colds—may lead to more serious illness.

Start at once taking Father John's Medicine, used over 80 years as a treatment for colds and bronchial irritations.

In 9 cases out of 10, Dr. Frederic Damrau, New York, proved by clinical tests that Father John's Medicine shortened the duration of colds.

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—The most interesting shindig I have been in in weeks was the opening of The Russian Eagle in the basement of the Sherry Netherland. Decorated to resemble a coronation room in the Kremlin, this new whookey is presided over by one of the town's most engrossing personalities: General Theodore A. Lodjensky, without whom this lush cellar would be simply another supper room.

He is tall and heavy-set, with the fine, broad features of the upper-class Russian of pre-revolution days. In his coat lapel he wears a tiny gold spread of wings surmounted by the Star of St. George—a gift from his cavalry regiment before the nightmare of 1919. From it streams the tri-color ribbon of the French Legion of Honor. These are the sum total of worldly possessions with which he was able to escape from the Bolsheviks More Abundant Life.

He was lucky to escape at all. Imprisoned in Moscow, he sawed the bars from his cell with the connivance of a friendly Englishman and made his way to a seaport disguised as a French physician. He took his wife with him and they were smuggled aboard a Danish freighter and reached England and finally New York.

Those were the days when the legend of opportunity in the New World was still ripe; the general heard fine tales of sudden riches told by restaurateurs in London, some of them fellow-exiles who had fled to America and struck it rich. He reached the Battery with $50 in

STOP BAD BREATH

Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels, stimulating them to natural action, and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no gripping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with constipation with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two at bedtime for a week and note the effect.

Over 5,000 dog licenses have now been issued at the county treasurer's office. This compares with 6,447, the total number issued last year. Indications are that by the time all licenses have been taken out, the number will run around the same as last year. There have been nearly 2000 licenses issued since the state dog man barked here and made some informations against persons who had failed to take out licenses.

The proposed changes will eliminate two railroad grade crossings, one of which is known as Hays crossing.

It is understood that the releases can be obtained from property owners where changes are to be made.

Ruling Is Made On Mortgage Tax

Held That It Must Be Returned To State Even If You Don't Get Interest

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 11—Officials of the Department of Revenue revealed a holder of a mortgage on real estate today must pay the state one-mill personal property tax on the value of his mortgage.

It was emphasized the tax must be paid on the mortgage value even though the holder has been paid no interest on it for several years and even though he may have paid the real estate taxes on the property during that time to avoid a tax sale.

Such a mortgage, it was pointed out, or a judgement which is a first lien on real estate, and which is in default of interest must be valued in the return at the sale value of the real estate.

Revenue officials explained the tax liability on mortgage holders to clarify one of many question asked the department by tax-payers concerning the personal property levy.

Relative to another question on the listing and valuing of stocks for the tax return, officials said all securities listed in the county four-mill tax report should be listed in the state tax report. As to the valuations, it was pointed out, the same values should not be used.

"Under the state tax act, securities are taxable on their value as of January 1, 1936," officials explained, "and the value is determined by the sale price as of that date alone. By sale price is meant the nearest closing bid price. If there were no sales reasonably close to January 1, 1936, the department, in fixing valuations, will consider the last actual sale price, earnings for the preceding five years and also the general assets of the corporation."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

KING SPANNED AS CHILD

The new King of England was spanked and was told fairy tales. Also he was pampered some by his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, and later by his grandmother, Queen Alexandra. "Grandma said I could do it," was a favorite excuse by David when he was caught by his mother at something of which she disapproved.

One wonders how it happened that this prince grew up to be the democratic, sympathetic human personality he is, universally respected and esteemed by all classes of people the world over.

We are told that Queen Victoria would often drive from Buckingham Palace to Windsor to see her little great-grandson or have him brought to her. It was Great-grandma Victoria who decided that the boy's name in the family should be David, though he was baptized as "Christian George Andrew Patrick David." His official name became Prince Edward Albert, and later Edward only. The Prince signed himself just "Edward P."

Queen Victoria soon had the most suitable room of Buckingham Palace made into a nursery for the baby and she herself chose his playthings there. From her own room she could hear his prattle, cries and laughter. Often at tea time she would send for David, set him on her knee and feed him with sweet tea 'not always good for him'.

Was Restrained

Yet young David's parents saw to it that he was subjected to rather strict routine. Besides he was not unrestrained. Perhaps few American children in best families today are disciplined so strictly as he was. Townsend writes:

"Sometimes, for instance, when less time came for the little Prince David, his governess would find him missing from the nursery. On such occasions the subsequent hue and cry would reveal David hiding in the bedroom of his mother, in a spacious wardrobe or under the bed."

"Then the Princess of Wales would become stern and forbidding to the young truant, and when David was not very naughty the rod was not spared, and he was corrected in a summary and painful fashion."

We also find that the present King of England, when a young child was filled with fairy tales, Townsend relays a fairy tale which young David, at about the age of three or four, is purported to have improvised for his little baby brother. It began: "Once upon a time there was an old couple who lived in a little cottage on the edge of a lonely moor. They were poor, oh, so poor."

Some of those who have been violently warning against fairy tales for young children might well take note. Certainly no one would class this world-famed personality, the King of England, as a day-dreamer or an introvert.

The roll follows:

Grade One—Edward Bistyga, Jesse Jones, Charles Kirsch and Franklin Jasenski.

Grade Two—Frank Barczyk, Joe Cifra, John Gush, John Pagach and Dorothy Minter.

Grade Three—Louis Kreuger, Leroy Campbell, Robert Shaughnessy, James Cioffi and Julia Jasenski.

Grade Four—Two—Velia Galano, Berdine Mrozek and James Hilton, Jr.

Grade Four—Three—Frank Kline, Grade Five—Emma Jane Davis, Annie Denako, Edith Kirsch, Helen Mae Latimer, Irene Oikari, Steve Cifra and Vincent Galano.

Grade Six—Frances Smolnik, Geraldine Graham, Jennie Candiotto, Gertrude Mae Hilton, Helen Argillan, Alice Stephenson, Gertrude Jones, Thomas Walters and Sylvia Wolanin.

Midnight Or Noon Is Okey,
But There's No Such Time
As 12 PM, Declares Court

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Mar. 11.—Twelve p. m.

apparently doesn't exist in the eyes of the law of England. From the law's point of view it is entirely a mythical hour.

This has just been established in a court case here in which a motorist, charged with parking a car on the wrong side of the street during prohibited hours, successfully pleaded that a parking sign stating "Parking only allowed here between 10 a. m. and 12 p. m." was not proper.

The plea was advanced as a joke, but much to the surprise of the motorist, Peter Wilson, an attorney, the magistrate accepted it and agreed that the term was misleading to say the least.

It was held that in law there is no such time as 12 p. m.—all the British Acts of Parliament say 12 midnight or 12 noon.

And eminent British astronomers are inclined to accept the view of the law in the matter, a survey revealed.

Astronomer Dr. W. H. Steavenson said that to put 12 p. m. on a public notice board was "obviously misleading."

"P. M. always suggests nighttime," Dr. Steavenson said. "Actually, 12 a. m. and 12 p. m., if they mean anything, should mean the same point of time—12 hours before the meridian and 12 hours after it, which in both cases should be midnight."

"Yet both 12 a. m. and 12 p. m. are contradictions in terms, since they represent zero—no measurable time. So with all humility I think the law may be right."

FORMER BRITISH ADMIRAL TAKEN BY DEATH

Plan Funeral For Earl Beatty

Will Be Buried In St. Paul's Cathedral Alongside Of Naval Heroes

WAS CENTER OF
WAR CONTROVERSY

(International News Service)
LONDON, Mar. 11—As Europe faced a new crisis today, the ranks of the great heroes of the last war were further thinned by the death of Earl Beatty, who succumbed to a long illness only a few weeks after he retired as admiral of the fleet on his 65th birthday January 17.

He left his sick bed to attend the funeral of Admiral Jellicoe, under whom he fought in the great battle of Jutland, only four months ago, and he was ill when he attended services for the late King George.

Center of Controversy.
Viscount Borodale succeeds to the earldom.

Beatty and Jellicoe were centers of a fierce controversy over the conduct of the battle of Jutland that their deaths has not stilled. Jellicoe was accused of over-prudence and Beatty of rashness yet the latter succeeded in drawing the combined

German high fleet off to the north, so that Jellicoe, commanding the British grand fleet, could engage it.

After the war Beatty succeeded Jellicoe as first sea lord, a post he held for nearly eight years.

Earl Beatty's wife, the former Ethel Field of Chicago, died in July, 1932.

It is now understood that Lord
Beatty will be buried near Jellicoe in St. Paul's Cathedral, where Lord
Nelson, hero of Trafalgar, also lies.

Store Force Has Party Last Night

Strouss-Hirshberg 'Family' Marks Firm's 61st Anniversary

AMATEUR SHOW PROGRAM GIVEN

Members of the Strouss-Hirshberg company's "store family" in New Castle, on the eve of the opening of the firm's 61st anniversary celebration gathered Tuesday night to enjoy their heart's content the store's annual dinner party and entertainment.

No Speeches, All Fun

After a delicious dinner last night the employees sat back to watch their fellow employees perform at their best in "Major Blows" Amateur Night. Speeches were strictly taboo at the dinner and during the program. Everything was given over to entertainment.

The nine-act amateur show, broadcast to the listeners over a public address system to give it a radio effect, was presided over by "Major Blows" himself, in the person of Wilfred R. Short, merchandise manager of the store. He was appropriately costumed for the role he took.

Assisting "Major Blows" was his talented helper, "Graham McNamee" in the person of John O. Huston.

The acts were all developed by the Strouss-Hirshberg performers and kept the room in a constant uproar of applause.

One of the star acts brought "Y. Woncha Winchell" in the person of Manager Jerold S. Meyer, to the mike to entertain. He reported store doings a-la-Winchell and won a heavy applause when his final flash had been reported.

Annually, the store parties are held here.

"Major Blows" Performers included the following:

The Strouss-Hirshberg orchestra—Players were members of the store's main floor departments.

Act by "Miss Snitchbaum" Miss Ada Giles.

"Curtain Callies"—Misses Selma Swad and Ada Giles.

Act by trio—Misses Gladys

Faculty Holds Tea Honoring Group Of Practice Teachers

Westminster's "Cadets" Guests As Washington Teachers Entertain

Teachers of George Washington junior high school honored seven Westminster College "cadet teachers" at a tea in the library of the school after school hours yesterday afternoon.

The blue and white decorated tables were attractively arranged by a committee composed of Arthur Walker, chairman; Miss Dorothy Stadelhofer, who presided at the tables; Miss Rose Uhl, Miss Geneva Hazen, Miss Virginia Duff and J. C. Ward.

Miss Gertrude Chapin, school librarian, explained during the tea a display of new books in the library.

Practice teachers for whom the tea was held were the Misses Isabel Mackey, Isabel Reed, Mildred Renshaw, Isabel Sheets, Helen Drier, Ruth Clark and Wayne Rush. All are practicing at Washington.

Services in the Epworth M. E. church continue each night with increasing interest and attendance. Dr. L. C. Cooper of Cleveland, O., is preaching most helpful and convincing sermons. Last night he dwelt on three kinds of Christians, the miniature Christian, the average Christian and the maximum Christian. Special music featured the service.

This evening will be observed as "Youth Night" and is for all young people of New Castle and vicinity. Dr. Cooper has chosen for his subject "God's Challenge to Youth". A half hour of special music will be given by the Glad Tidings quartet of Beaver Falls.

This quartet will sing each night, including Sunday. Friday will be "Family Night" and Dr. Cooper will present a Bible to the largest family attending. Special plans are being made for a big day next Sunday.

Playing a steady proficient brand of basketball with deadly earnestness, the New Castle team swept to a 25 to 17 victory over a fast Crafton High team. It is the first time since 1927 that the New Castle High banner has been hoisted over the W. P. I. A. L. floor league.

Ten determined young sons of Pa Newc went out last night on the large Pitt floor with every intention of winning the championship, and after 32 minutes of accurate shooting, clever passing and great defensive work, walked off the court satisfied that they had given their best, and laid the handsome trophy cup emblematic of the Class A title in the lap of Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, the maker of champions. There were no outstanding stars from a scoring point, Nocera had seven points for the largest number, but as a whole the New Castle team played as one great unit and forgot about individual glory.

It's a story book ending, this climax of a season of ups and misfortunes. Imagine if you can a team read out of the section title a month ago, coming along with rapid strides and finally usurping the power held by Rankin high, a highly regarded Pittsburgh favorite. It took courage born of hardy pioneer stock to make that story come true. You just can't seem to realize that New Castle high has won the championship.

Real Champions.

New Castle high basketball teams to come will be urged forward by the "spirit of the 1936 team". The old adage you're never beaten until the last man is out, certainly has come true. A finer team of real honest-to-goodness champions never lived. You would have to sit in on the Butler and Rankin games to appreciate the fighting qualities of this team of young wildcats.

Not belittling Crafton high in the least, but really after the first five minutes of the game last night we could tell that New Castle had it. New Castle led every minute of the game. The closest that the Crafton team got was 2-2 early in the first period.

Cool and Deliberate.

With cool deliberateness, an exact replica of Joe Louis as he plastered Maxie Baer all over the Yankee stadium, the New Castle high quintet went about the business of disposing of Crafton high. The local sons were never ruffled, never excited.

There was a din in the stadium that probably could be heard over in Panther Hollow, but it failed to distract the Bridenbaughmen in the least.

New Castle bottled young "Howdy" Lyons, the Crafton ace, up like Mister Heinz does his pickles. The scoring star against Homestead and Charleroi never figured in the picture at all. It was a young under-study by the name of Joe Robertson who stole the show from Lyons. The Wrenchmen were only allowed six field goals by "Jap" Covelli and George "Pop" Adams, the New Castle stellar guards, and Robertson had two of them.

Nocera Opens Up.

When the third period began Nocera was in at forward for New Castle along with Carik. The Crafton team was the same as the team that started the game. Bender and Nocera had foul chances and missed. Robertson slipped to the side of the floor and caged one. Carik went to the side of the court on the next play and made a field goal. Robertson let fly with another long one and it was 13 to 11 New Castle. Nocera made one from the side for 15 to 11, and a few seconds later "Blackie" slipped under the basket and made his second field goal.

Protect Lead.

Robertson missed a foul. Covelli made a foul for New Castle, sending the count to 18 to 11 as the gun boomed out the end of the third period. A summary shows New Castle with three field goals and a foul in the period, with Crafton having two field goals.

With a seven-point lead New Castle went into a shell in the fourth and final stanza and would not emerge. New Castle was not going to "blow the championship" with only eight minutes left to play. This is where championship caliber develops.

Burbs of Crafton began the final period with a long looping shot that found the net for an 18 to 13 score. Nocera coolly dropped in a foul and it was 19 to 13. Bender made a foul for Crafton and it became 19 to 14. Adams went under the basket on a follow up shot and made a field goal, his second of the game, giving the Bridenbaughmen a lead of 21 to 14. Carik made a foul. Nocera came out of a jumble of players under the basket to jump the ball through the hoops for his third field goal of the game. New Castle led 23 to 14 with three minutes of the game left to play.

Carnegie Tech Wants Steffen Back As Coach

Would Make Harpster As sistant Coach To Chicago Judge Next Year

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 11.—With speculation rife on the Carnegie Tech campus and the student body clamoring for the scalp of head football coach Howard Harpster, the report had been confirmed today that Judge Walter Steffen, of Chicago, was offered the post of head mentor for the Skibos.

Although details were not revealed it was learned that the Chicago jurist who served as coach for the Tartans in 1914 and continued for 18 consecutive seasons, had agreed to come to Pittsburgh Saturday for further negotiations with the athletic council.

Following a meeting of the special football committee last night the only official announcement came from Clarence (Buddy) Overend, graduate manager of athletics who suggested that Harpster's scalp will probably remain partly intact, adding:

"The committee likes the setup, of Wally Steffen to return as head coach and Howard Harpster to remain as his assistant. Judge Steffen will come here Saturday morning for a conference with Tech officials."

Duquesne Shuns Olympic Chances

Pittsburgh Team Will Not Enter Tourney To Play In Olympic

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 11.—Injuries to the squad and possibility that the competition may keep the players away from their studies too long were given today as the reasons for the decision of Duquesne University to forego participation in the Olympic basketball trials this year.

Pirate Protégés Show Progress

Benawanger Refuses To Utter Any Loud Statements, However

(International News Service) SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Mar. 11.—Cautious Bill Benawanger, Pittsburgh Pirates proxy, although enthusiastic about the progress of his protégés to date, today refused to venture any estimate about the ability of the recruits. "They have made excellent progress in camp," he said, "but it's too early to make any statements about the ability of the recruits." Benawanger said he was impressed with the worth of Bernard Cobb and Dunk Barkley, two rookie infielders.

Union A. A. To Meet Tonight

Members of the Union A. A. will gather in the Union school tonight for a session at 7:30 o'clock. All old officers of the association are asked to meet as new officers will be discussed.

Plans will also be made to stage a big sports program for the benefit of the Union A. A. at a later date.

DEFEATS CRAFTON 25 TO 17—DISPLAY FIGHTING QUALITIES

fouls for Crafton, making it 23 to 16, with two minutes left to play. Grommes missed a foul and Covelli made a foul for a 24 to 16 count. Nocera missed a foul. Dutkin went in at forward for New Castle, replacing Clark. Ford replaced Lagerman, a sub for Burby of the Crafton team. Burby having left the game on four personal fouls.

Dutkin made a foul for New Castle, making it 25 to 16, and then missed the next one. Bender with the clock ticking off the seconds made the final point for Crafton, a foul, and the game was over. It was 25 to 17. When the game ended Coach Bridenbaugh had his whole reserve team on the court, with Small and Engs at the guards, Grommes at center and Dutkin and Nocera at the forwards. A summary of the fourth period shows New Castle with two field goals and three fouls. Crafton with one field goal and four fouls. In foul tossing New Castle made 9 out of 18. Crafton made 5 out of 11.

Lacked Thrills.

The game last night lacked the thrills and spills of the Rankin encounter. It was more of a deliberate business like effort by New Castle to get the thing over with quickly. Content that Crafton high would not have much of a punch after the first two periods, New Castle's utter disregard of the punches thrown by the Craftonites bespoke champions. It was a long wait—eight years—for championship, but when it finally came it was deserved. Never has a team of young New Castle boys had a better claim on a championship. Never has the section three banner been raised higher.

1,000 From New Castle.

Is it any wonder that over 1,000 New Castle fans at the game went into a state bordering on temporary insanity when the game was over. The men and women who followed the team through the three games in the tourney had something to yell about. The boys did not let them down. There were congratulations on all sides. There was much back-slapping and hand-shaking.

The type of man at the helm of athletics here was reflected in the statement made by Head Coach Bridenbaugh following the game:

"Don't congratulate me, give it to the boys, they played the game." Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner was as happy as a boy with a new toy. Gardner has managed many a championship team, but quoting the genial Ralph: "This team takes the prize for being fine fellows and real champions."

Meet Findley Next.

New Castle will go back to Pittsburgh Saturday night to meet Findley Vocational high conquerors of Glassport high, for the class B W. P. I. A. L. championship. The winner of the game Saturday will be the district champions.

(International News Service) ISTANBUL, Turkey—Divers are to be employed by the Turkish customs authorities to check an ingenious method of smuggling estimated to have deprived the Turkish treasury of millions of pounds of revenue in the course of several years.

The finding of a drum floating in the sea led to the discovery of the fraud.

The smugglers would approach the coast in sailing and motor vessels.

At prearranged places they would drop overboard hermetically sealed drums containing contraband.

These sank to the bottom. Confederates on shore later sent out divers to retrieve the drums.

This plan worked successfully for years—until one of the drums, instead of sinking to the bottom, floated on the surface. It was seen by the customs authorities—and the game was up.

Now the authorities have formed a corps of divers to defeat the smugglers with their own methods.

Faculty Quintet Wins Shelby Title

Defeat Cold Draw 39-23 In Second Game At Shelby Auditorium Tuesday

SCHILL AND MCPHEE STAND OUT IN GAME

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 11.—Shelby Inter-Department League basketball championship trophy will not occupy its usual niche at the clubhouse. It will grace a special spot in the local high school as a result of the Faculty's 39-23 convincing triumph over the Cold Draw in the second game of the championship series last night at the Shelby auditorium.

Combined with a fast diversified passing attack and some fancy shooting, the Pedagogues left little doubt as to who were the rightful champions. From the moment of scoring the first point they were never headed. It was quite a reversal of form indeed. The Cold Draw cagers were the official jinx of the Faculty. They defeated them twice—one in the first half and once in the second. The Faculty proved that they were equal to the task when the championship series started last week. They took a close 34-29 victory last Thursday.

Ellis Guy of Ellwood City spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Guy, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott and children and Mrs. Bruce of Pittsburgh spent Sunday at the Douthit house here.

Market Recovery Extended
Today Despite Tension
From Europe

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—The recovery movement in the stock market was extended today despite continuation of the tension abroad over German occupation of the Rhineland.

Gains were relatively small but a few specially scored advances running to more than five points. Trading was active with the ticker running behind at the start.

Farm equipments, utilities, aviations, rails and rubbers were pace-makers, a number of new highs being chalked up in these groups.

J. I. Case spurred 2½ points, while International Harvester gained about two for new 1935-36 peaks.

Curtiss-Wright in aviations opened on a block of 15,000 shares and then moved into new high ground above nine. Wright-Aeronautical spurred five points before meeting profit-taking, while Douglas jumped more than two.

U. S. Rubber climbed more than a point to a new high while Electric Power & Light led utilities higher with an advance of a point to the best levels since 1932.

Amerada jumped 4½ points to above 118.

In sugars American Sugar Refining slumped a point on the 1935 earnings of 93½ cents a share, compared with $3.56 in 1934. Tobacco shares lagged.

Bonds displayed an improved tone. Grains and cotton were quiet and moderately higher.

New Dust Storm Warnings Given

Nation Can Expect Severe Dust Storms This Summer, Is Forecast

More Than 60,000,000 Acres Of Rich Fertile Soil Are Ravaged

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1936, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11—Dust storms fully as furious as those which ravaged 60,000,000 acres of land last year will visit their destruction on the United States again this summer.

This was the unqualified, unpromising prediction made to International News Service today by the office of H. H. Bennett, grizzled chief of the soil conservation service.

Beam Of Hope

A bright beam of hope, however, as directed on the otherwise bleak horizon by the declaration that through the new AAA, recently enacted by congress, the nation will virtually be rid of dust storms by 1938.

Meanwhile, such emergency measures as are available are being vigorously prosecuted in order to ameliorate the portending devastation which, it has been reported by H. H. Finney, conservator for region six, the "black hole" of the storm area, "will be as bad or worse than last summer."

Lister Furrowing

Outstanding among these emergency tactics is "Lister furrowing" for which congress will probably pass an appropriation shortly. "Lister furrowing" comprises the excavation of miniature "earthworks," 12 inches high, which run against the wind and offer some resistance against its devastating removal of top-soil.

Expedients are simply that, however, it was explained. "There is one and only one, absolute preventive against dust storms and erosion.

"That is: plant crops, conserving or productive or both, until an effective cover, which will withstand the wind, has been achieved."

"Have no misunderstanding about dust storms and wind erosion. They are not acts of God, like a cloud-burst or cyclone."
